St. Francis Inn Named # 1 By USA Today

The historic St. Francis Inn (circa 1791) has been recognized as the #1 Best Hotel in St. Augustine in USA Today's "10 Best" (<http://www.10Best.com>).

According to writer Shelley Preston "As the United States' oldest city, places to stay in St. Augustine are full of old-world charm. The city's bed and breakfasts generally give an authentic feel for the place as they are usually in historic homes and filled with antique furnishings. We picked some options that are historically cool, but come with comfy modern amenities."

"This pretty inn, built in 1791, is located on a peaceful street not far from the activity of the main plaza. In classic bed and breakfast style, each room has both charming antique furniture and modern comforts such as televisions, private baths and central air. Some of the rooms even have fireplaces or balconies and request a suite for more room for the family to spread out. Other perks include a swimming pool and complimentary bicycles for touring historic downtown Saint Augustine. Each morning, guests can go to the breakfast buffet at their leisure and enjoy pastries, hot coffee and hot entrees that change daily."
